

2023 McHENRY HOHNEN
MARSANNE / ROUSSANNE

Review Summary

95 pts – “Sensitive farming and intuitive winemaking are the hallmarks of this brilliant Margaret River producer helping to shape what we understand to be that regions core strengths. It has developed a reputation for working magic with the Rhone Valley varieties, and that’s enhanced here with a supple and fragrant wine that delivers plenty of stone fruit flavour while keeping a tight leash on the component varieties’ tendency to get oily and fat.”

95 pts – “An exercise in precision, with texture and flavour in total balance. Stone fruit and spice, lime zest and a buttery-lemony toffee flavour plus slippery phenolics and mouth-watering acidity. It’s savoury, luscious and compelling.”

94 pts – “A very good vintage for Margaret River whites. Stone fruit, green apple, a little mint and fennel, some honeyed florals in the mix too. It’s flavoursome, but balanced, flint though a lightly buttered nutty richness, acidity is present and freshens the wine up nicely, and the finish is long with some oatmeal and spice, and a bit of citrus zip. Excellent.”
